Prof. J. J. Thompson, the distinguished British physicist, in making the annual presidential address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science said that modern education has two tendencies which do not favor the development of broadminded and well balanced men and women. One is the tendency away from the concrete and practical to mere bookishness; the other is the tendency to premature and excessive specialization.

Word has reached the local police that Norman Wood, a Swede, is wanted in New York city for murder, having killed, on November 2, Miss Agnes Keller with a hammer. He is remembered here as a sugar-marker and has been employed as quartermaster on the American-Hawaiian boats and as seaman on the Clyde lines and others.

There was a very pleasant time at the Palama gymnasium last night, when the Palama indoor baseball teams were presented with two cups—one for the championship in the junior series and one for the championship of the senior series. The Palamas have also won the Young Men's League championship, but as this was only a friendly game for fun, no cup was presented. The Palama orchestra played during the evening, and there were gymnastic stunts by the Palama boys, headed by Jimmie Nott.

PERSONALS.

Internal Revenue Collector Walter F. Doyle is also a dengue victim.

Henry S. Crane, for eight years collector and circulation manager for the Hawaiian Gazette Company, leaves today on the Larline for San Francisco, where he will make his home.

Acting-Governor E. A. Mott-Smith has fallen a victim to the epidemic of dengue that has put so many Honolulu people on their backs, and yesterday was obliged to go home early.

A. W. Adams, secretary and treasurer of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, will return to Honolulu on the Alameda this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Adams, who was formerly Miss Gussie Clarke. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were married in San Francisco, but are returning to Honolulu to reside permanently. Mr. Adams resigned his position in the customhouse in order to be able to give all his attention to the business of the pineapple company.

ORPHEUM PROGRAM IS WORTH WHILE

The oftener the Jack Golden program at the Orpheum changes the better the shows are and last night's change followed the rule. There was a good house and an appreciative one, the various numbers being well received. Golden himself is proving a prime favorite and his fun-making efforts receive a ready response.

The moral of last night's skit is that it does not pay to pretend to be a man that looks like yourself. Billy Wheelan, as Jack Vanderlip, tried that as a ruse to guard against a jealous wife and it is around and about the deception that the plot thickens. Golden has a quiet part that gives his humor full play.

There are some very pretty dancing numbers and a quartet that is the best yet, taken part in by Phenie Edwards, Alene Johnson, Jack Golden and Billy Wheelan.

The show for the rest of this week is worth while.

FUNERAL OF MISS H. SMITH.

The funeral of Miss Harriet Smith, the young lady who was killed Wednesday night in the automobile accident near Pearl City, will take place at four o'clock Sunday afternoon from the cottage on Matlock avenue, in which Miss Smith and her three girls companions were living.

Appreciation

Run over in your mind a list of suitable Christmas gifts, and we challenge you to name one more appropriate, more useful, more appreciated than a pair of shoes.

There are shoes and shoes, but when presenting a pair, see that they are a standard make and a little better grade than the recipients would themselves buy.

Remember the "Hanan," the finest shoe in the world for men.

WORK DONE BY THE KING'S DAUGHTERS

During the past six months the King's Daughters and their friends have been busily engaged in making garments for Christmas for the poor. Last Tuesday evening the articles of clothing were sent to Mrs. H. H. Williams, where the Circle met to look over their handiwork. It was a most interesting and wonderful exhibit. By actual count there were three hundred new garments of all shapes and sizes and the Circle were indeed well satisfied at their effort. The clothing was all given to Miss Florence Yarrow to be used in her work for Christmas.

DEATH CLAIMS A POPULAR TEACHER

Miss Helen Lanmoy Apo died of typhoid fever last Sunday morning, December 12, 1909, at Lahaina, Maui.

She was born November 18, 1888, in Lao Valley, Wailuku, Maui. She attended the Kamehameha School for girls, and was graduated from there two years ago. She received a teachers' certificate from the Honolulu Normal School last June, and was appointed teacher in the public school of Lahaina, Maui, in September.

Mrs. Nancy Apo, the mother, wishes hereby to give her thanks to all the friends who helped her in her recent bereavement.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY.

Andersonville.

There are some persons here who know the horrors of Andersonville prison, the most dreaded rebel jail during the Civil War. There are more people in Honolulu who know of it through reading the well-written descriptions of the pest hole that have been published in the magazines from time to time. The place and the escape made by some Union prisoners has been reproduced by a motion-picture maker until it is as realistic as the event itself. There are great opportunities for the photographers in a picture of this kind and it does not appear that one of them was overlooked. Comedy films will follow this.

Signor Travato will sing in English and the Melotte sisters will sing "The Poxy Boy." Vienna's orchestra will be a part of an excellent program.

The Novelty Theater.

There will be an entire change of program at the Novelty tonight and Happy Jack Walker and Little Jeanette Cooper will present new and laughable skits. There will be changes in the program of motion pictures, also. There is always a large audience at the Novelty and the people show satisfaction by enthusiastic applause.

"Quarreled on their wedding day. Dreadful! And what about?" "The bride's girl friends cried too vociferously to suit the bridegroom."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
